Distinguished Honors

Myles F. Horton

An Honorary Degree: Doctor of Humane Letters

"Tribune of backland, mine and mill people of the Southern mountains. For forty years you have prevailed over terrible attacks to lead great struggles for economic, racial and social justice and the health of the land. You have taught people to organize and lead themselves and to draw strength from their culture."

*Presented by Gordon Weisenborn
Faculty Member, Columbia College*

Bob Fosse

An Honorary Degree: Doctor of Art

"Master artist of Dance, Theater and Music. Singularly distinguished in film, theater and television. We celebrate your extraordinary talent. You have made fine art a popular enjoyment."

*Presented by Joanne Grimme
Graduating Senior, 1973, Columbia College*

Harrison E. Salisbury

An Honorary Degree: Doctor of Letters

"Incomparable reporter of the truth of the world. Your mighty pen is fueled with rare integrity, humanity, courage and independence—and supreme skill."

*Presented by Robert Zonka
Faculty Member, Columbia College*

Rosa Parks

An Honorary Degree: Doctor of Humane Letters

"Your courageous example fired the resistance of black and oppressed people and confronted the cruelties of the American nation. Truly, when you sat down in a Montgomery, Alabama bus all men and women were freed to stand more humanly erect."

*Presented by Mark Stampley
Graduating Senior, 1973, Columbia College*

James B. Holderman

An Honorary Degree: Doctor of Humane Letters

"You have boldly battled power, privilege and parochial mind to give vital leadership to higher education and to reform its conceptions of public service."

*Presented by Betty Shiflett
Faculty Member, Columbia College*
