THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

By Francis Scott Key

Oh, say can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore, dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, now conceals, now discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream:
'Tis the star-spangled banner! O long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore
That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood has wiped out their foul footsteps' pollution.
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight, or the gloom of the grave:
And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Oh! thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation!
Blest with victory and peace, may the heaven-rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, for our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God is our trust."
And the star-spangled banner forever shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

LIFT EVERY VOICE AND SING

By James Weldon Johnson

Lift every voice and sing, till earth and Heaven ring,
Ring with the harmonies of liberty;
Let our rejoicing rise, high as the listening skies,
Let it resound loud as the rolling sea.
Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us,
Sing a song full of the hope that the present has brought us;
Facing the rising sun of our new day begun,
Let us march on till victory is won.

Stony the road we trod, bitter the chastening rod,
Felt in the days when hope unborn had died;
Yet with a steady beat, have not our weary feet,
Come to the place for which our fathers sighed?
We have come over a way that with tears has been watered,
We have come, treading our path through the blood of the slaughtered;
Out from the gloomy past, till now we stand at last
Where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.

God of our weary years, God of our silent tears,
Thou Who hast brought us thus far on the way;
Thou Who hast by Thy might, led us into the light,
Keep us forever in the path, we pray.
Lest our feet stray from the places, our God, where we met Thee.
Lest our hearts, drunk with the wine of the world, we forget Thee.
Shadowed beneath Thy hand, may we forever stand,
True to our God, true to our native land.

DISTINGUISHED HONORS

A CELEBRATION OF ARTISTS IN HUMAN SERVICE

Doctorates to be Conferred at Commencement Exercises, May 12, 2007

Each year, Columbia College Chicago honors outstanding individuals in the arts, education, politics, and public information. These individuals have engaged their great talents in important human service, and their life work and example embody the ideals and spirit of the College.

DIONNE WARWICK

Renowned Recording Artist

Dionne Warwick has, over an illustrious four-decade career, established herself as an international musical legend. Her reputation as a hit maker has been firmly etched into public consciousness, thanks to nearly sixty charted hits since "Don't Make Me Over" began its climb up the charts in December 1962. As a performer, she has charmed and entertained audiences on every continent, amassing a worldwide audience.

Dionne Warwick received her first Grammy Award in 1968, and in so doing became the first African-American solo female artist of her generation to win the prestigious award for Best Contemporary Female Vocal Performance. This award has only been awarded to one other female African-American legend, Ella Fitzgerald. Ms. Warwick preceded the mainstream success of some of her musical peers by becoming the first such artist to rack up a dozen consecutive Top 100 hit singles from 1963 to 1966. In 1968 she became the first African-American female performer to appear before the Queen of England at a Royal Command Performance. Since then, Ms. Warwick has performed before numerous kings, queens, presidents, and heads of state.

In recent years, Ms. Warwick's pioneering efforts have focused on leading the music industry in the fight against AIDS. Her Grammy-winning, chart topping, single "That's What Friends Are For," led the way by raising, literally, millions of dollars for AIDS research. Throughout the world, Ms. Warwick has devoted countless hours to a wide range of humanitarian causes, serving as the U.S. Ambassador for Health throughout the Eighties. On October 16, 2002 she was named a global Ambassador for the United Nations' Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), based in Rome, Italy. She has spearheaded the long overdue development and production of a history book that will detail African and African-American history for use in schools, libraries, and bookstores throughout the world. She continues her work as a socially conscious and concerned global citizen.

JOE ADAMS

Producer and Arts Manager

For over four decades, Joe Adams was "the man behind the man," music legend Ray Charles. But a major network radio personality and film and Broadway stage actor, Mr. Adams was a well-known entity long before he joined Ray Charles.

In 1946, Mr. Adams was doing sporadic radio work for Hollywood stations KFWB, KPAS, KFOX, KGFJ, and remotes for KFOX. In those days, most stations did not encourage African-American men on its premises so he considered giving up on show business and joining his father, selling furniture. About this time, Santa Monica Station KOWL, gave him the opportunity of going on the air. A handshake found him on the air for 15 minutes a day and he was the producer, writer, musical director and sales representative for "The Joe Adams Show." Two years later, his five and a half hour daily radio show was the #1 rated deejay show in Los Angeles. He soon signed over 56 sponsors for his airtime on KOWL, marking the beginning of a dazzling radio career that eventually spanned 20 years. During this time, he also taped shows for KWBR in San Francisco, and had his own show on KDAY, making him the number one radio personality in both Los Angeles and San Francisco.

In 1947, he branched out into television with two shows of his own, "Adams Alley" and "Joe Adams Presents." These were two of the most popular shows during the early television days and he was one of the pioneers of that era. Mr. Adams was the first man of color to do an on-air coast-to-coast network radio broadcast and appeared in more than 26 motion pictures. In 1958, he was the first man of color to receive the coveted "Golden Globe" Award as the Outstanding New Actor.

As Vice-President/CEO in charge of RPM International, Mr. Adams supervises the myriad activities of the parent company including its business holding and its publishing companies, Tangerine and Racer Music, as well as Ray Charles Enterprises, which covers the activities of the Ray Charles Orchestra, the Raelettes, and Ray and Joe's outside business interests and investments.

Mr. Adams has received four doctorates, including one from Morehouse College where a special educational facility has been designated in the name of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Adams and a performing arts center is being built in memory of Ray Charles. Joe Adams has also been a tireless philanthropist. Both he and Ray Charles have supported numerous community causes as well as a number of African-American colleges.

Producer, Screenwriter and Director

Currently in production is WATERHORSE, directed by Jay Russell.

Bernstein founded Beacon Communications in 1990 and it has become one of the most successful independently financed film companies in the entertainment business. Its first films were THE COMMITMENTS, directed by Alan Parker, which was nominated for a Golden Globe Award as Best Picture and went on to win four BAFTA Awards; Keith Gordon's critical triumph A MIDNIGHT CLEAR, starring Ethan Hawke; A THOUSAND ACRES, based on the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel, starring Michelle Pfeifer and Jessica Lange; SUGAR HILL, starring Wesley Snipes; PLAYING GOD, starring David Duchovny and Timothy Hutton; PRINCESS CARABOO, starring Phoebe Cates and Kevin Kline; THE ROAD TO WELLVILLE, directed by Alan Parker and starring Anthony Hopkins, and David Mamet's A LIFE IN THE THEATRE, which won a cable ACE Award for Best Drama.

Armyan was born and raised in Chicago, and attended the University of Wisconsin. He was a broadcast journalist with PBS and then with ABC. He wrote the cult classic THANK GOD IT'S FRIDAY, starring Debra Winger and Jeff Goldblum. He then wrote and co-produced Francis Ford Coppola's legendary Vegas romance, ONE FROM THE HEART. Bernstein made his directing debut with WINDY CITY, from his screenplay, which starred John Shea and Kate Capshaw. He also co-wrote and directed CROSS MY HEART, starring Martin Short and Annette O'Toole. Armyan wrote and produced ABC's Emmy Award-winning THE EARTH DAY SPECIAL.

I AM FALLING FOR YOU AMERICA

By Brandi Homan

I don't visit my sister when she's recovering because it reminds me that she's been depressed for a long time. I just can't watch a movie with her, eating takeout and pretending it's fun, when I have a hundred things to do because I'm trying to make something of myself.

*

I have to think my family needs me to make something of myself. This way, I can sit outside the Laundromat at 9:30 in early fall, writing and eating a Blue Bunny ice cream cookie, and call it work. This way I do not have to visit my sister, can wash the laundry a month overdue.

*

On the way here, there was a stencil on the sidewalk with "I am falling for you" below it. I'd seen it before and thought, oh how cute, sometimes I love the city. Most of the time I don't. Cities are where people who are trying to make something of themselves end up, drinking bottled water and sitting outside the Laundromat.

*

Above "I'm falling for you," the picture was of two smiley-faced buildings holding hands. How cute, I thought, I love this city. But then one had a plane flying into it and the other had smoke coming out of it. Is this sick or wonderful? America, I am falling for you.

*

Last week a pitcher drove his plane into a Manhattan building. I'm so tired of being afraid all the time. As if that's a problem for a middle-class white girl trying to live a collective dream of being Brad Pitt, or married to him. I am terrified less than most.

*

When Diane Sawyer interviewed Brad Pitt, the network showed footage of his trip to Africa. How strange that starving Ethiopians knew Brad Pitt, but they did, had pooled the day's bread to make one large piece like a giant cookie from the mall. Their eyes were wide and they were clapping. Brad Pitt, I am falling for you.

*

My ice cream cookie is gone. I'm outside the Laundromat writing and calling it work because now my fingers are cold. I'm tired of trying to become somebody. Once, waiting in a doorway with MaryAnne, I was hungover and wanted to eat too much, a pizza, a giant cookie. Then she said I mean, what did we go to war for? And looked at me.

*

To free the Iraqi people I said, and the look on her face reminded me it wasn't true. I knew it wasn't true too. I saw smoke from one building and a plane flying into another and was tired of being afraid all the time, as only a middle-class white girl trying to become somebody can be. I am falling for you, America. America, I am falling.

I Am Falling For You America is the winner of the 2007 Allen & Lynn Turner Commencement Poetry Competition.
