THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

By Francis Scott Key

Oh, say can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore, dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, now conceals, now discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream:
'Tis the star-spangled banner! O long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore
That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood has wiped out their foul footsteps' pollution.
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight, or the gloom of the grave:
And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Oh! thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation!
Blest with victory and peace, may the heaven-rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, for our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God is our trust."
And the star-spangled banner forever shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

LIFT EVERY VOICE AND SING

By James Weldon Johnson

Lift every voice and sing, till earth and Heaven ring,
Ring with the harmonies of liberty;
Let our rejoicing rise, high as the listening skies,
Let it resound loud as the rolling sea.
Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us,
Sing a song full of the hope that the present has brought us;
Facing the rising sun of our new day begun,
Let us march on till victory is won.

Stony the road we trod, bitter the chastening rod,
Felt in the days when hope unborn had died;
Yet with a steady beat, have not our weary feet,
Come to the place for which our fathers sighed?
We have come over a way that with tears has been watered,
We have come, treading our path through the blood of the slaughtered;
Out from the gloomy past, till now we stand at last
Where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.

God of our weary years, God of our silent tears,
Thou Who hast brought us thus far on the way;
Thou Who hast by Thy might, led us into the light,
Keep us forever in the path, we pray.
Lest our feet stray from the places, our God, where we met Thee.
Lest our hearts, drunk with the wine of the world, we forget Thee.
Shadowed beneath Thy hand, may we forever stand,
True to our God, true to our native land.

I WANTED TO WRITE

i wanted to write about this shaman with tiny birds bursting from the mouth replenishing the very skin of the earth tributaries, crinkling & nourishing shrubs popping & blinking green & red some archetype burning up in sand but i hate the word shaman, i literally hate the word like i hate the word poet, because of the way people say it, or the way people know it makes me cringe before something i'm too close to like when i hear the name of somebody i loved for too long or when an old song comes on & i know there is no against which to push or dance there are just lots of hearts that keep things sacred & share with them a fondness that's too hard in my face like violence, like sameness
like hunger, like proper & tire me this longest portion: innocence
awake & keen desire
or something bigger

DISTINGUISHED HONORS

A CELEBRATION OF ARTISTS IN HUMAN SERVICE

Doctorates to be Conferred at Commencement Exercises, May 15 and 16, 2010

Each year, Columbia College Chicago honors outstanding individuals in the arts, education, politics, and public information. These individuals have engaged their great talents in important human service, and their work and example embody the ideals and spirit of the College.

To be honored Saturday, May 15, 2010, 1:30 p.m.

DR. PETER MAGUBANE

Internationally Acclaimed Photographer

Dr. Peter Magubane is an internationally acclaimed photographer whose work has been published and exhibited all over the world. He embarked on his long and distinguished career in 1954, when he joined Drum magazine. This took Magubane and his camera to the heart of the anti-apartheid defiance campaigns and treason trials. After the Drum years, Peter Magubane travelled and exhibited in Europe, and spent time studying in the United States. Back home, in 1966, Magubane joined the Rand Daily Mail. In 1969, he was detained for 586 days in solitary confinement, and after this, he was banned as a photographer for five years. He returned to his work in time to bear witness to the uprising of young school children that began on June 16, 1976. From the late 1980's, Peter Magubane worked for Time Magazine. With his camera, he recorded the culmination of the struggle for liberation in South Africa. The dramatic images of this history are published in several of his books. Books such as his June 16 1976 Fruit of Fear, and his first book of photographs accompanied by poems written by a young Zindzi Mandela, Black as I am, were banned in South Africa.

For his dedication and outstanding contribution to the world of photography, Peter Magubane has received numerous accolades, among them: the Mother Jones-Leica Lifetime Achievement Award; Martin Luther King Luthuli Award; Fellowship by the Tom Hopkinson School of Journalism and Cultural Studies; Honorary Doctorates from UNISA; Tshwane University of Technology; Rhodes University; and the University of Fort Hare. Peter Magubane was the first black South African to receive an award for his photography in 1958, when he received 1st and 3rd prizes in the South Africa Best Picture of the Year Contest. Most recently, Dr. Magubane was awarded Honorary Fellowship by the Royal Photographic Society in London. On receiving the Order for Meritorious Service from Former President Nelson Mandela in 1999, President Mandela said: "For his bravery and courage during the dark days of apartheid, Peter became a beacon of hope not only to the thousands of journalists all over the world but also to millions of people across our country. His commitment to photojournalism helped pave the way to transformation in South Africa, and such efforts are, needless to say, worthy of international recognition."

Particularly in post-apartheid South Africa, Peter Magubane focuses his lens on the people and cultures that live within South Africa. This period has been a cultural rebirth for many South Africans, with a renewed interest in reviving their traditions. Peter Magubane has a number of books published reflecting the beauty, traditions, and cultural practices of South Africans. These include: Vanishing Cultures of South Africa; African Renaissance; Bantwane - Africa's Undiscovered People; and AmaNdebele.

He writes about America from the ground up, exploring the fissures in the nation's landscape. One critic commented, “Kotlowitz is an omnivorous observer, discerning listener, and unassuming witness to urban life.” His work has also appeared in The New Yorker, Granta, The Washington Post, and The Chicago Tribune, as well as on PBS and NPR. His play An Unobstructed View (co-authored with Amy Dorn) premiered in Chicago in June of 2005. He teaches writing at Northwestern University.

ROBERT KLEIN

Award Winning Actor and Comedian

For more than forty years, Robert Klein has entertained audiences, and he continues to have an acclaimed career in comedy, on Broadway, on television, and in film.

Born in the Bronx, he was a member of the famed Second City theatrical troupe in Chicago.

He was nominated twice for Grammy Awards for "Best Comedy Album of the Year" for his albums Child of the Fifties and Mind Over Matter. In 2000, he received an Emmy nomination for his HBO special Child in his 50's.

He received a Tony Award nomination for Best Actor and won a Los Angeles Drama Critics Circle Award for his performance in the hit Neil Simon musical They're Playing Our Song. In 1993, Klein won an Obie and the Outer Critics Circle Award for Outstanding Performance by an Actor in Wendy Wasserstein's The Sisters Rosensweig.

In 1975, Klein was the first comedian to appear in a live concert on Home Box Office. He has done eight one-man shows for HBO and is currently preparing his ninth. His DVD box set, Robert Klein: The HBO Specials 1975-2005, a complete collector's edition containing all of his HBO stand-up specials, was released in September 2007.

Among many starring roles in television, he co-starred in the hit NBC series Sisters, and regularly appears on talk-shows, making more than one hundred appearances on The Tonight Show and Late Show with David Letterman alone.

Klein has also appeared in many notable films including Hooper, The Owl and the Pussycat, Primary Colors, Two Weeks Notice, How to Lose a Guy in 10 Days, and the recently released Back up Plan.

The Amorous Busboy of Decatur Avenue, his recent first book for Simon & Schuster, is an affectionate coming-of-age memoir about growing up in the '50's and '60's before embarking on a show business career. In it he recounts his journey from an apartment in the Bronx, developing his talent in Chicago, and the beginning of his show business stardom. The book is pure Robert Klein: witty, honest, self-questioning and always contagiously funny. Publishers Weekly writes: "he unfurls an array of captivating anecdotes, writing with wry wit and honesty." He has a Bachelor of Arts degree and an Honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters from Alfred University, also a Doctor of Humanities from Monmouth University, honoris causa.

Robert, a lifelong New Yorker, makes his home in Westchester and New York City.

BOB MCNAMARA

Bachelor of Arts, Journalism, 1966

Bob McNamara is a five-time Emmy Award-winning CBS News correspondent who covered many of the world's biggest stories spanning over three decades. He was born in Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin and graduated from Columbia College Chicago in 1966.

"Bob McNamara is one of the best television and radio correspondents of his generation," said longtime CBS News colleague Dan Rather. "CBS News and the American public have been exceptionally well served by this talented and dedicated journalist."

As a CBS News national correspondent, McNamara regularly filed reports for the CBS Evening News, The Early Show, 48 Hours, and Sunday Morning.

Among the many major stories he covered were the Oklahoma City bombing; the crash of TWA Flight 800; the Columbia shuttle disaster; the Paducah, KY, Jonesboro, AR, and Columbine student shootings; the Los Angeles riots; Hurricanes Andrew, Hugo and Ivan; the 1989 San Francisco earthquake, and numerous presidential campaigns.

As a foreign correspondent in the 1970's McNamara's international experience included filing reports from more than 40 countries. In addition to covering the Lebanese Civil War and the Israeli invasion of Lebanon in 1982, he spent the majority of two years – often in extremely dangerous conditions – covering the Iranian revolution and the fall of the Shah. McNamara also filed numerous reports on terrorism in West Germany, Italy, Sweden, and Switzerland and covered national elections in many European countries.

Prior to joining CBS News, McNamara was a reporter and anchor for WCCO-TV in Minneapolis (1968-74). Before that, he was a news reporter and anchor for KCRG-TV and Radio in Cedar Rapids, Iowa (1967-68). He began his broadcast journalism career in 1965 while in college as a copy boy for WBBM-TV in Chicago.

McNamara and his wife Jane reside in Phoenix and are the parents of Michael, a photojournalist with the Arizona Republic; Ellen, a news anchor/reporter in Tampa; and Elizabeth, an instructor for Teach For America in Oakland, CA.

LAURA "STEELE" YOSHA

Bachelor of Arts, 1990, Radio

Born and raised in nearby Indianapolis, she found her way to Columbia's radio department after realizing her love for music and communicating with others needed to be put to use.

Immediately following graduation, Laura found radio work in her hometown of Indianapolis. Her radio journey has landed her on air in Cincinnati, back to Chicago at WLUP "The Loop," and other stations in the Windy City.

Most recently, Laura's radio career took her back home to Indianapolis where she is currently employed by Clear Channel Communications. She is heard on multiple Classic Rock stations daily in several U.S cities, including Charlotte, Dallas, Indy, Milwaukee, San Francisco, and over 30 others each weekend.

Laura had the esteemed honor to be named the first female voice to ever serve on the public address team at the famed Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Her duties include interviews with the fastest drivers in the world and celebrities who attend the world famous Indy 500 and NASCAR's Brickyard 400.

Laura credits her successful career to her education at Columbia College, her on-air time at Columbia's WCRX, and her internship at then-WCKG FM.

Laura is honored to be part of the festivities surrounding graduation weekend for Columbia students and wishes the class the best of luck in future endeavors! You guys rock!
