Phi Sigma

PHI SIGMA

Founded in 1878

The Society of Phi Sigma is believed to be the oldest continuing group of its kind in Illinois. Its founders, young men who had been members of a high school debating society, wished to promote serious discussion of the national and world scene and related aspects of the social-ethical disciplines, and thus to reflect and satisfy the interests and concerns of alert minds striving for enlightenment through study and discourse.

The Greek letters Phi and Sigma are the initial letters of the ancient admonition, "Love Thou Wisdom."

Phi Sigma continues today very much in accordance with its long traditions. Membership is limited to fifty persons, who gather together in each other's homes, where the presentation of papers serves as a basis for spirited questioning and interpretive comment.

Meetings are held once a month, on the second Friday, from October through May (except December), the last being the occasion for a festive party.

ARTICLE 3. There shall be an Executive Committee which shall consist of the President, the Vice Presidents, the Secretary/Treasurer and two others who shall be elected by the Society. It shall be the duty of the Executive Committee to prepare the annual program of the Society and to publish the Year Book. This shall be done for the ensuing year as soon as practicable after the April Annual Meeting. The Executive Committee shall also attend to such other matters as may be referred to it by the Society.

ARTICLE 4. There shall be a Membership Committee which will consist of three members. One three-year member shall be nominated and elected each year at the same time and in the same manner as the officers. Retiring members shall not succeed themselves. Names of guests to be proposed for membership shall be submitted to the Membership Committee by active members within three months of their having visited Phi Sigma, whereupon the Membership Committee shall submit the proposed resumes by mail to all the voting members. If three written objections are received by the Membership Committee the names must be dropped from any further consideration. If three objections are not forthcoming from the membership the Membership Committee then votes. A majority is required for acceptance.

ARTICLE 5. Fifteen members shall constitute a quorum to transact business.

ARTICLE 6. Amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws may be proposed at any meeting of the Society. Such proposed amendments shall be submitted in writing in open meetings and then referred to the Executive Committee which shall report at the next regular meeting of the Society on the advisability of such changes. The amendments shall then be voted on by ballot, a two-thirds vote of all members present being necessary for adoption.

ARTICLE 7. Active members in good standing for a continuous period of twenty five years shall be eligible for and may request automatic retirement from Active to Honorary Membership. No duties shall be required of Honorary Members and they shall not have a vote in the Society.

ARTICLE 8. Active members who resign because of removal from the Chicago Area will, if they desire, be classified as Non-Resident Members. As such they have a standing invitation to attend any meeting when in the vicinity and will automatically be reinstated to Active Membership, should they again permanently return, subject to and as openings occur in the Active Membership.

THE VOICE

The six young men who founded Phi Sigma in 1878 were so dedicated to the love of wisdom that they volunteered to present two programs each in order to have twelve meetings a year. They quickly discovered that this was too demanding a schedule so they cut the regular presentations to six and made the papers on alternate months more informal, consisting of essays of opinion, original poetry and book reviews. These informal programs had assumed the name "Voice" by 1883. One source suggests that the name may have derived from an early practice of introducing the program with the words, "Listen to the voice of the people."

The presentations of the Voice were soon reformulated so that a single "editor" was responsible for getting three or four other members to each prepare a short paper. Sometimes the subject was chosen by the editor; other times each presenter had a free hand. The only unchanging element through the years was that the Voice presentations required no academic research.

The number of Voice programs per year was eventually reduced to two for many years and then to one. Since the first World War it has usually been assigned the April meeting. The idea of an "editor" is revived from time to time but more frequently one or two people are chosen to do the Voice in whatever format they choose. It has been common for the Voice to reflect on the "theme for the year" and at some times, to review the serious papers that had been presented during the year.

A sampling of the Voice through the years finds it to contain original short stories, poetry, plays and essays. In the 1920's and early '30's one member gained renown for his humorous verse. This was so well received that he was asked to perform yearly for more than a decade. He often shared the Voice with others but the humorous tone pervaded most presentations as it usually has since that time.
