Columbia College Chicago

Founded in 1890 as a college of elocution, the mission of Columbia College has been to educate students who will communicate creatively and shape the public's perceptions of issues and events.

Columbia College Chicago has since grown into the largest arts and media college in the nation, with more than 12,000 current undergraduate and graduate students as, well as more than 80,000 alumni, making our "network" among the largest of any arts and media college in the world.

The Loop

Located in the Columbia Arts District in the heart of Chicago's South Loop, Columbia College is just steps away from Chicago's museum campus and a short bus or train ride from hundreds of theatre and music venues, independent film festivals, and galleries. Home to more than 11,000 residents and over 2,000 businesses, the South Loop is one of the fastest growing areas in downtown Chicago.

Every week, thousands of readers turn the pages of The Columbia Chronicle for news and information about where to go, what to do and how to find the goods and services they want and need.

The Columbia Chronicle

Published since 1965, The Columbia Chronicle is considered the highest rated collegiate newspaper of its kind. In addition to being named “2009 Best in Show” by the Associated Collegiate Press, its editorial and visual content has consistently won awards and honors from highly-respected institutions such as the Illinois College Press Association and (CNBAM) College Newspaper Business and Advertising Managers, Inc.

Divided into five sections—Campus, Health & Fitness, Arts & Culture, Commentary, Metro—The Columbia Chronicle provides a wide variety of appealing content and news to engage a range interests and personalities.

Production

The Columbia Chronicle is published by a specialized newsprint company that utilizes the latest in digital newspress technology, with inks and paper stock of the highest quality, giving The Chronicle a clean and professional appearance.

The Columbia Chronicle is printed in tabloid format (11” wide x 17” tall). Each page has five columns and is 16” tall. Each column is 2” wide.

Circulation

Published once a week, 6,000 new issues of The Columbia Chronicle are available for free at any of Columbia’s 20 downtown campus locations or from one of our 30 outdoor newsstands, located on busy street corners all throughout the South Loop. Its circulation zone includes the campuses of four downtown universities and two local high schools.

Echo magazine reflects Chicago's urban students: Colorful, bold, inquisitive, diverse. It covers their culture in their voice.

ECHO Magazine

Adhering to only the highest standards, ECHO consistently remains a nationally top-rated college magazine, and has won numerous awards from prestigious organizations such as the Columbia Scholastic Press Association (Columbia University in New York), AEJMC (Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communication) and the Associated Collegiate Press.

Production

Widely distributed twice a year, ECHO is created by a select group comprising upper-level journalism majors operating alongside industry professionals, all working to ensure the content and design continues to maintain its appeal with ECHO's estimated 60,000 readers.

ECHO is published utilizing the same paper, ink, printing methods and technologies employed by most nationally distributed consumer magazines. The final product is a glossy, 4-color magazine with vibrant photography and design—providing the best possible visual complement for your advertisement.

Circulation

ECHO Magazine has an average circulation of 30,000 and each issue encompasses two seasons: Winter/Spring and Fall/Summer. Offered free of charge, ECHO is obtainable not only through Columbia's numerous downtown campus locations, but also at coffee shops, bookstores, restaurants, and cafes all throughout Chicago's growing South Loop area.

ECHO reaches not only the local residential and Columbia College populations, but also those of three other downtown Chicago universities. With a recent readership survey estimating 2.2 readers per copy, ECHO delivers strong pass-along response and multiple exposures per individual.
